

Published based on A Darvocet Lawsuit Is Inevitable

A Darvocet Lawsuit Is Inevitable

If you are suffering from mild to moderate pains, Darvocet or Darvon can help you. Medical experts have been using it for more than three decades and favor it over aspirins which are relatively weak painkillers and narcotics which have highly addictive properties. From the time that this drug was discovered, it became one of the most widely prescribed medications in the United States.

When the Food and Drug Administration requested a recall on these products, things took a different turn. A statement was released by the FDA stating that the major component of Darvocet which is propoxyphene can cause heart problems.

In Britain, Darvocet was banned around 2005 while the European Union banned the drug around 2009. So, this recall was seen as quite late by most people. Furthermore, an advocacy group called Public Citizen even confirmed how this recall was quite late when they have been requesting for the product to be banned as early as 1978. Another petition was made by the group around year 2006 which still became unsuccessful. No matter how late the recall is, it is still something to be thankful for. This drug has already brought a lot of complications to its users and was even alleged to be the cause of 589 overdose deaths in the United States. This recall will reduce the statistics of the people who will be affected from the dangers of this product.

A lot of different products had already been recalled by the FDA. These recalls have always followed a lot of lawsuits. Now, it is only inevitable that after the recalling of Darvocet, a number Darvocet lawsuit will follow.

A lot of people are affected of the Dravon recall which made them to be concern about the basis for filing a Darvocet lawsuit. If you are experiencing some complications right now and not sure if it is caused by Darvocet, you need to call for a lawyer to evaluate your current circumstances. One should never underestimate whatever complications they are currently experiencing because Darvocet can be a very dangerous drug. It is also best that one must act immediately.

You can also find this article published on A Darvocet Lawsuit Is Inevitable, and on the tag pages condition, health, heart, recall, treatment.