Provillus Hair Loss Formula for Men and Women Might Help You Stop Hair Loss

When you have a problem with hair loss, there are a lot of treatments you can choose to try. The Provillus hair loss treatment is one of the more popular treatments you can try. This proven system starts with the FDA approved minoxidil plus a dietary supplement designed to help you stop hair loss.

There are two unique systems - Provillus for Men or Provillus for Women. It is important to choose the proper variety because the formula for men may be harmful to women that are pregnant or plan to become pregnant.

The first part of the Provillus for Men system is a solution of 5% minoxidil. This is similar to many other hair loss treatments.

The treatments second part, the dietary supplement, is makes it different than other treatments. The Men's Provillus dietary supplement includes Vitamin B6, Biotin, Magnesium, Zinc, Saw Palmetto, and a unique blend of herbs designed to help your body get the nutrients required to grow a healthy head of hair.

The Women's Provillus hair loss treatment is a lot like to the formula for men, but it is formulated for women. It is important that women use this formula because the formula for men can be harmful.

The first part of the treatment is a 2% solution of minoxidil. The other part is a dietary supplement that contains Vitamin B6, Biotin, Magnesium, and a proprietary herbal blend which includes horsetail silica. This formula helps make sure you have the nutrients you need for healthy hair growth.
